Zencore™ Cabinet Coating System

A streamlined, high-performance finishing solution built for modern cabinet manufacturing

The Zencore Cabinet Coating System is designed to simplify finishing lines, improve consistency, and deliver beautiful, durable cabinets with fewer steps.

Built for manufacturers who want reliability, speed, and uniform quality at scale, Zencore combines primer and enamel performance into one optimized system, reducing complexity while elevating results. Alternatively, it can be used with a primer to optimize performance on porous substrates

With Axalta's unmatched support, service and supply network, scaling efficient and high-quality production has never been easier.

Features & Benefits

Boost Production Efficiency

- Reduces SKU complexity and product changeovers
- Fewer steps for faster throughput

Improve Yield & Reduce Waste

- Simplified application processing errors
- Produces more usable parts per batch without sacrificing quality

Easy, Reliable Defect Correction

- Excellent recoatability for quick fixes
- Apply multiple layers without complications to keep lines moving

Consistent, Stable Color

- Minimizes long-term color shifts and ensures run-to-run consistency

Durable, Mar-Resistant Finish

- Clearcoat-level scratch resistance in a single system
- Nickel mars and surface marks can be removed easily for a pristine finish

Zencore Performance Strengths

The Zencore Cabinet Coating System lets cabinet producers standardize, streamline, and elevate their finishing operations while reducing total cost of ownership.

Primer-Level Performance

- Strong filling power for MDF
- Smooth sanding characteristics for efficient prep

Enamel-Level Performance

- Excellent chemical and stain resistance
- Resists metal marking
- Accepts glaze stain colors
- Resists heat and UV discoloration
- Water and humidity resistant
- Flexible film to prevent cracking or chipping
- Excellent flow, leveling, and sag resistance for a premium finish

Operational & Business Advantages

- Fully stocked and readily available
- Backed by Axalta's industry-leading technical service
- A cost-conscious, efficiency driven alternative to multi-step systems

The Axalta Advantage

The Axalta Advantage is powered by world leading color expertise, trusted technical partnership, and a commitment to elevating every customer's process. With proven success across OEM and manufacturing markets, Axalta delivers innovation that keeps you ahead of shifting industry and design trends.

Color Leadership

- Global color development network with unmatched expertise
- Trend driven palettes guided by market data and design insights

Technical Expertise

- Supported by Axalta's highly skilled technical service teams
- On site process guidance, troubleshooting, and optimization support

Trusted Partnership

- Reliable supply, consistent performance, and dependable availability
- Collaborative approach tailored to each customer's production goals
